President's Message

Dear People of Palma,

Everyone is thought to be somewhat of an expert on schools as each one of us has spent an enormous amount of time in class or at least in attendance at some neighborhood educational institution that kept us pretty well busy from early morning until mid-afternoon if not longer. One might argue that it was time well spent, or not. I would like to believe it was time well spend and continues to be time well spent for the hundreds of our Boys of Promise I see here on the Palma campus each and every day.

Palma School is committed to preparing young men for college and beyond. Our students arrive here as true Boys of Promise and graduate with their senior brothers as Men of Character. Palma is especially proud of the growth each young man, each class makes while on this campus. No two students are alike; no two classes are alike. Each has his own personality, each has his own gifts, each has his own skill sets, all leading to a force unmatched for special things to happen under the Palma umbrella. Extraordinary things happen here on a regular basis. Our academics have never been better. Our athletics continue to establish the standard by which other schools and their teams are measured. Palma's commitment to social justice and providing opportunities for our students to see how many of the unfortunate of the world get by on a daily basis with so little has never been stronger.

Our students possess the magic of music; they embrace their gift of reading well at liturgies and arguing strongly in support of a given cause in Mock Trial. Our students learn to reason and to think and to listen. Our students come with a wide range of interests and various gifts that are totally unique as each matters. Our students learn to respect themselves and others; they are challenged to treat women as equals and to be a voice for the voiceless. Our students are taught the sanctity of life as well as the need to practice their self-discipline on a daily basis.

The movement from being a Boy of Promise to being a Man of Character doesn't happen by itself or with the mere turning of the calendar pages. This is the beauty of Palma today — better than ever and getting better.

Best wishes!

Board of Directors Chairman's Message

Palma Family and Friends,

A handshake is such a simple thing that it is often overlooked. As I stood on the stage at our graduation in May, I had the chance to shake each graduate's hand as I handed out diplomas. It was an honor to be a small part of their sending forth. I am happy to report that I did not get a single limp-wristed handshake. These young, confident men are off to the next stage in their lives well prepared to meet the challenges ahead. For me that sums up what Palma is all about — educating the young men who enter our halls and classrooms — preparing them to be Chieftains among the men (and women) of the world.

Of course, our graduates do not end up on the stage simply by handshakes. A lot of time, talent, and treasure have been poured into Palma. We owe a great deal of thanks to our faculty and staff, parents, family, friends, and benefactors. They are what make this great institution run so well.

Palma always strives to fulfill the mission of Blessed Edmund Rice — to educate all youths, regardless of their circumstances. Keeping that mission in mind, I want to reiterate to all of you that every young man's family receives the benefit of a lower tuition through the generosity of our donors. Tuition fees alone do not cover the cost to educate our students, so I encourage you to think about making the Palma Fund part of your annual giving. For those who have given, I look forward to the opportunity to shake your hand in gratitude for what you do for Palma.

Go Chieftains!

Principal's Message

Palma School! I am thrilled to be here! There is a wonderfully charged atmosphere among the Palma Family as the start of each new school year presents new beginnings...new changes...new horizons. It is my hope and prayer that we will honor the legacy of Catholic school success and tradition that precede us — a rich and storied history where highly dedicated and qualified teachers, staff, volunteers, parents, alumni and benefactors make their investments of self to champion a mission of the highest purpose for the benefit of our young men — the world's future.

God has a way of closing and opening unanticipated doors for us, putting us in just the right places at the right times in our lives. Our calling to this holy adventure of a Palma education is no exception. It is no mistake that any of us is here. Nor is there any mistake in our commitment to our sons' future. Each of us has been chosen to be here. And each of us, in turn, chooses to sacrifice...to labor...to commit ourselves to the priority of educating remarkable young men for a world that so desperately needs them. Is there anything more important?

Successful schools do not just happen; they are created. Forged by the toils of highly committed teachers, staff, volunteer parents, participating students and a supportive community, schools can be positioned for great success. Driven by a passion for learning, I believe in the wonders of education and the sanctity of people. Schools are sanctuaries for thought and agents of change for our society. There is tremendous need in our world for learning and leadership.

So it is with this humility and gratitude in mind that I beseech you all to share our joy and energy as we commit ourselves to making Palma School greater, stronger, and ever more successful. We have a history here of many good and giving people with willing and gracious hearts. I encourage you to continue this legacy with the same generous hospitality with which you grace my presence as your humblest of leaders.

Go Chieftains!

Advancement Director's Message

Our President's Report is an expression of our heartfelt gratitude to every member of the Palma School family and reflects all that we have accomplished together. As we look back, it is easy to see that it was an extraordinary year for our Palma students. Our fundraising efforts were focused on the Palma Fund and growing our Financial Aid Endowment and Scholarships, and as you will discover in the following pages, you came through for us once again.

The enthusiasm and pride for our school that is shared by students, alumni, parents and grandparents is rare and something that we all cherish. Whether you volunteered your time, attended an event, made a financial contribution — or perhaps even did all three — you made a difference in the lives of our students and helped make Palma School stronger. Stepping up and saying “yes” is affirmation of your belief in the educational experience we provide and helps ensure that we will thrive for generations to come. As educators, it is motivating to know that our community recognizes the importance of our mission and that you are moved to join our effort.

The Advancement efforts at Palma School are numerous, but always focus on the same thing — helping the school provide an outstanding educational experience and meaningful programs for our students. Each year you are asked to give to the Palma Fund and each year you generously support this necessary cause. These funds bridge the gap between tuition and the real cost of education at our school, and help finance our outstanding curriculum and programs. It also enables us to offer financial aid to our families that need assistance. Family outreach at its best!

We remain committed to helping boys of promise become men of character. On behalf of everyone at Palma, thank you for all you do to support our students and our mission.

MISSION STATEMENT

Palma is dedicated to providing young men an excellent college-preparatory education in a Roman Catholic environment that embraces The Essential Elements of an Edmund Rice Christian Brother Education and challenges each individual to develop spiritually, intellectually, morally, physically, and socially.

Essential Elements of an Edmund Rice Christian Brother Education

- I Evangelize youth within the mission of the church.
- II Proclaim and witness to Catholic identity.
- III Stand in solidarity with those marginalized by poverty and injustice.
- IV Foster and invigorate a community of faith.
- V Celebrate the value and dignity of each person and nurture the development of the whole person.
- VI Collaborate and share responsibility for the mission.
- VII Pursue excellence in all endeavors.

The Power of a Palma School Education by Roger Rybkowski

The world is rapidly changing and schools today need to be more nimble than ever before to keep pace with the opportunities and consequences of technology. With tremendous sadness, however, we must also be mindful that it's a world that includes school shootings. What was unthinkable only a decade or so ago is now something that requires constant vigilance.

Despite the cause, our political leaders seem to point their fingers wherever the money tells them. Influence peddling at the root of our government makes progress toward a solution impossible to determine, let alone implement.

The national argument continues to focus on how to stop the violence and mitigate future attempts. Reduce the number of guns, restrict the availability of guns, increase personal surveillance, improve mental health screening and treatment, and limit exposure to violence in the media circle around in a perpetual vortex. All of these address the "how" of the problem, but few people attempt to understand the "why." Perhaps that's because in a population that is becoming more secularized each year, the "why" stands in the way.

Study after study shows church attendance declining in the US over the past 60 years. Could there be a corresponding correlation? Where else exists a strong argument for the sanctity of human life? Has our society become so inconvenienced by others that we have forgotten how we once revered life? Have we become so cynical about a higher presence that we've lost our tolerance for being human?

Movies and video games glamorize the nobility in taking life as part of a "me against the world" narrative. Yes, it's been argued for decades that exposure to violence doesn't create violent behavior nor desensitize young minds. But as was lamented by the late Paul Harvey, how can we believe that and yet all agree that a person's behavior can be influenced by a 30-second commercial?

Add to that the enormity of the internet compared to one's community. It's easy to fall into the trap of inferiority and inadequacy when bombarded with stories and images of others whose lives appear to be as close to perfection as one can get. This, however, is not the only influence the internet imposes.

There was a time when stories in books, on TV and at the movies, for the most part, had happy endings. These stories reinforced the notion that perseverance would result in a meaningful and beneficial outcome.

How many "real life" videos, or reports in our 24-hour news cycle, contain a moral imperative? Sure, the stories of old were just "made up," but they successfully instilled hope and an optimism for the future. They did "influence" people.

Parents of the 60s and 70s were accused of letting their children watch too much TV. How many parents today allow their children to sink, unescorted, into the internet...into a world of no limits where anyone is free to express a point of view, truth notwithstanding? What compounds internet influence is the number of young successes. If the perception exists that "paying one's dues" is no longer required for success, then where is mine?

All of this, combined with the pressures of growing up and fitting in, certainly has the ability to make a young person feel powerless. It's widely regarded that each act of violence is a cry for help. Could each act of this magnitude be an attempt to generate power... an act conceived within the misinterpretation of what power is and how it works?

It's not by accident that Palma adopted the phrase, "Be powerful. Be a Chieftain." a few years ago. It's not intended to appeal to those who seek power, but rather defines the personal outcome of our school and campus culture.

Chieftains learn that real power comes from giving voice and autonomy to others. Recognizing that people around you could use a hand, and then lending that hand, is how we have the power to stand on our own two feet and the power to sleep well at night. Acknowledging a higher power, or even just respecting those who do, carves out a comfortable place for us to dwell and adds order to our lives.

In addition, students at Palma learn that each Chieftain has value. It's a community that pulls those on the margin in, rather than pushing them out. True acceptance, true tolerance, true friendships are all a part of Palma culture. Supporting each other is how we find our unique power. Our unique power is how we thrive in the world.

At Palma, being powerful has nothing to do with muscles nor intelligence. It's about becoming a friend, a supporter, a mentor. Through these actions, life has value and the future looks inviting.

Add to that rigorous academics, championship athletics and meaningful service and one starts to understand the "power" of a Palma School education. ●

Palma's Top Ten Men of 2019

Part of Palma's mission is to instill in its young men a passion for learning and provide a solid educational foundation on which to build. Each year we salute the seniors whose outstanding performance in the classroom exemplifies this mission. Congratulations to the following 10 seniors who had the highest grade point averages in their class and received noteworthy nods from universities across the nation. ●

What had intrigued him about Palma was that the school's Integrated Student Outcomes (ISOs) were very much in line with those established at West Point.

Mentor Profile: Jon Christensen: A Life of Prodigious Tenacity

Jon Christensen started life being adopted as an infant in Fargo, North Dakota. Shortly after, his new family moved to Iowa so his father could attend graduate school. They eventually landed in Sacramento where his father taught high school physics.

In high school, Mr. Christensen was a three-sport athlete lettering in football, wrestling and track. Athletics was, perhaps, the birthplace of a life of tenacity. He recalls not being the most talented athlete, but pushed himself hard, making the track team despite the coach showing little interest and earning the spot of captain of the football and wrestling teams. With graduation approaching, he knew he wanted a life of independence. The means to that end was the US Military Academy. An appointment to West Point would provide “an extra layer of discipline” and allow him to attend a quality college without burdening his parents with the expense. From his 18-year-old perspective, it didn’t hurt that he was destined to live 2,800 miles away from his home town.

Despite the gauntlet that is securing an academy appointment, and receiving no help from his parents (his father was against the idea) nor school counselors, Mr. Christensen managed to procure a seat. So tenacious was the effort that he really cannot explain how he did it. After graduation in 1980, he found himself in the West Point class of 1984.

Disappointed that the academy was not the experience he had envisioned, Mr. Christensen applied to colleges in California during his sophomore year, garnering an acceptance to UC Berkeley, among others. After visiting some campuses during the summer, he determined that West Point was, indeed, his best option and made the commitment to return his junior year, knowing it carried with it an obligatory five-year tour of duty after graduation.

In 1984, Lieutenant Christensen’s tenacity earned him a spot in both Airborne and Ranger Schools before arriving in Hawaii as a part of the Army Corps of Engineers. He discovered the Army was not the same as West Point and that he had found himself a career and soon after a wife with the marriage to Teresa, whom he had known from high school.

His military service would span three decades with stops around the globe that included combat tours in Iraq. He earned a master’s degree in applied mathematics from the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey and another in national security and strategic studies from the Naval War College in Rhode Island. Highly decorated, including the Army Distinguished Service Medal and two Bronze Stars, he achieved the rank of full colonel and was selected for brigade commander at three commands. During his 30 years, he also was assigned to teach mathematics at West Point and in the operations research department at NPS.

Life Part Two — Monterey

Mr. Christensen retired from active duty in 2014, accepting one more set of orders: from Teresa to return to Monterey. He thought his destiny lay in teaching mathematics at the junior college level, but receiving offers that were geographically undesirable, he applied to Palma School.

What had intrigued him about Palma was that the school’s Integrated Student Outcomes (ISOs) were very much in line with those established at West Point, moving beyond the academics to include social, spiritual and physical aspects of development. Still, adjustments were necessary to teach high school students after having taught military college. Despite pre-arrival trepidation, he found the students to be mature, the faculty to be welcoming and a refreshing emphasis on academics.

“What took me by surprise was the maturity of Palma students. Being an all-boys school I was worried about the testosterone levels and how many fights there would be and how much bullying was going on. And, that’s what impressed me the most in the first years. My extra duty was in the gym where they’re playing basketball and they’re going at it hard and I thought I would be breaking up skirmishes every day. I did that for two years and I never saw a conflict. It still amazes me how much they take care of each other.”

Mr. Christensen in the classroom

What makes Mr. Christensen a perfect fit at Palma is his set of expectations. Of course he expects his students to learn the subjects being taught. In addition, however, his goal is to teach his students how to be problem solvers.

“In calculus you have to take a lot of data and put it in the right order so you can solve the problem. Problem solving is a skill, a way to think.”

He also strives to teach students to be good consumers of information, which comes directly from his classes in calculus and statistics. He wants students to recognize the origin of information, the motivation behind its promotion, and how to both challenge and build a factual case to support or overturn what is being promulgated. With so much false information available today, this discernment is crucial for people to lead lives of success.

Lastly, he wants students to become life-long learners; to appreciate and find the beauty in all things, including mathematics and physics.

Is it easy to teach these concepts to high school students? Not always, but Mr. Christensen continues to prove that anything can be accomplished...when you apply hard work and prodigious tenacity. ●

Baseball

Varsity Head Coach: Phil Giammanco '87 | PCAL 11-11 | Overall 15-14

Despite leading the league in scoring over the course of the season, the varsity baseball team's pitching corps was plagued with injuries and only managed to break even with an 11-11 record in league play. The 11 recorded wins was good enough to grab a playoff berth. Colin Neff '19 led the pitching staff with a 3-1 record over 11 appearances on the mound. His 24 strike outs was bested only by Gabriel Razo '19 who recorded 34 Ks in 31.1 innings pitched. Jon Jon Berring '20 was team leader at the plate with 14 RBIs on 21 hits. Senior Jerry Flores also recorded 21 hits. Flores accepted a scholarship to play ball at Concordia University in Portland. Bering has signed a letter of intent to play college ball at Santa Clara University. Having only five seniors on the varsity squad means most of the team will be returning for the 2020 season.

Joe Castaneda '20 delivers the pitch.

Jon Jon Berring '20 makes his break for home.

*JV Head Coaches: Vic Rossi '68 and Chip Campion '68
League 14-6 | Overall 17-7*

Junior Varsity was loaded with great young talent amassing a 14-6 PCAL record scoring 226 runs to 92 by their opponents. Four of their six league losses were by only one run, showing dominance with the sticks and solid defense to back up their hurlers. The team was buoyed by the performance of Joe Cardinale '22, Luke Rossi '22, Antone Mercurio '21, Noah Paz '21 and Jeremy Valenzuela '22. With only five spots vacated on varsity, the team looks to retain a healthy chunk of talent in 2020.

Luke Alvarez '22 and Caesar Aldisert '22

Frosh Head Coach: Joe Derousi | League 10-5 | Overall 16-8

The freshman team proved worthy of taking the field as they forced their will to a winning 10-5 league record. Solid pitching kept opponents on their heels while their bats did a lot of talking at the plate. With the exception of some close scores with two worthy opponents, they served up a fair share of blowouts. The team benefited from the efforts of Ethan Chrisman, Joey Finley, Caesar Aldisert and Luke Alvarez.

Golf

Head Coach: George Gatanaga

The varsity golf team was virtually a new team having graduated four players in 2018, three of whom received offers to play college golf. They showed great improvement as the season progressed finishing in third place in the Gabilan Division in PCAL. Grant Gatanaga '19 and José Calderón '19 qualified individually for CCS.

Adolfo Campos '19 sets up his put.

José Calderón '19 is precision on the green.

Lacrosse

Head Coach: Vince Brigantino | League 8-4 | Overall 10-9

A good portion of their roster graduated in 2018, but the team stayed solid as they earned their way to a winning record in 2019, finishing third in their division. Returning senior Luke Brigantino kept opponent goalies busy. Anton Strasser '20 will be returning again this year and is expected to remain one of the league's top goalies. Ethan Pavlet '20 is another stand-out returning starter. He was named a US Lacrosse, Central California Academic All American.

Varsity lacrosse readies for the match.

JV Head Coach: Greg Beach | League 6-1 | Overall 9-5

The JV team finished with an impressive 6-1 record with Josh Delapena '21, Rhett Parker '21, Colton Amaral '22, and Gage O'Briant '22 leading the charge.

JV Lacrosse's Seth Nino '21 eludes an opponent.

Swimming

Head Coach: Sam Long | Fourth Place Finish

The swim team was very competitive with several swimmers turning in outstanding performances. Among the top Chieftains in the pool were EJ Fulgencio '21, Mateo Trujillo '20 and Christian Gomez '19.

Mateo Trujillo '20 with another power performance.

Sean Bosch '22 on the block.

Tennis

Head Coach: Greg Andersen | League 7-7

Palma's tennis team finished third in the division with a 7-7 league record. Despite just breaking even, Alexander Moret '19 had an outstanding season. Nick Slater '20, Hudson Wood '20 and Simon Bosch '20 will all be returning in the spring to anchor the 2020 team.

Simon Bosch '20 prepares for Nevin Manimarin '21 to serve.

Track & Field

Head Coach: Jason Smith '87

Chieftains had an undefeated dual-meet season in 2019 with strong performances across the field. Colby Caudill '19 showed dominance in the triple jump and high jump. Micah Olivas '20 was powerful in the 200m and long jump. Tommy Padilla '19 and Moises Benito '22 stayed in front of the pack in the distance contests and Dane Golden '20 amassed 18 victories between the 400m, long jump, 4x100m (with Fredrick Barnes '22, Micah Olivas '20 and Ben Eastman '20) and 4x400m (with Erin Limbo '19, Fredrick Barnes '22 and Tommy Padilla '19) relays. He placed in the top four in the 400m among all PCAL divisions (out of 283 athletes) and earned a spot in the CCS trials.

Dane Golden '20 on his way to the CCS meet.

Tommy Padilla '19, Moises Benito '22 and Oscar Rubio '19 lead the pack.

Volleyball

Head Coach: Matthew Cassady '06 | League 4-8 | Overall 9-8

Volleyball struggled in league with a young team but managed a 9-8 overall record. Matt Morasca '19, Anthony Scattini '21, and David Daniels '19 all demonstrated some impressive V-ball chops. ●

2018-2019 Annual Report

Palma School sincerely appreciates those individuals who generously made annual, capital and endowment gifts between July 1, 2018 and June 30, 2019. To accomplish the school's goals, it takes the support of the entire community — alumni, board members, businesses, faculty, foundations, grandparents, parents, parents of alumni, staff and friends. Through their contributions, these valued constituents ensure that our students continue to have the very best educational experience possible.

Thank you for your generosity and support.

Giving for 2018-2019

Fiscal year July 1, 2018 through June 30, 2019

We are privileged to witness the generosity of the extraordinary Palma community who believe in our future as much as they honor the past. The success of our programs and their constant improvement to the highest degree of excellence and innovation depends on your support. The future is bright for Palma School and it is Palma people (students, faculty, staff and you) who are the key to fulfilling our promise and realizing our vision. Thank you for helping us on that journey. I trust I can count on your involvement and generosity again this year! Go Chieftains! It's going to be another extraordinary year!

The President's Circle

The President's Circle, established in 2008, gives special recognition to those Palma supporters who have made gifts of $1,000 or more during the preceding fiscal year. Many families, alumni and friends choose to continue their membership in the President's Circle year after year in recognition of the superior achievements of the school. We salute the following members of the pace-setting group and hope that the power of their example will serve to encourage others to consider investing in Palma School.

The Palma Fund

Year after year, unrestricted support is critical to sustaining and expanding Palma's commitment to unparalleled teaching and learning, while helping to address the full financial needs of all students. Tuition alone does not cover the cost of education at any private institution, and Palma is no exception. Palma's annual giving campaign, The Palma Fund, ensures that all of today's students have the same unparalleled experience as the generations of students who came before them.
